HOLD-UP

An Illinois Central Fast Passenger Train Held up Near Wickliffe This Morning.

ABOUT $10,000 SECURED

Six Robbers Hold up No. Four and Crack the Express Company's Safe—Took Charge of the Train.

CROSSED OVER INTO MISSOURI

A typical wild west "hold-up" occurred right in old Kentucky on the Illinois Central, two miles from Wickliffe, at 1:20 o'clock this morning. No. 4, the fast train from New Orleans to Chicago, which passes through Fulton about midnight, was flagged some distance past Hartwell. Engineer Tisdale slowed up and when the flyer stopped in response to the signal, five or six masked men suddenly clambered aboard and shouted "hands up" to the engineer and fireman. The latter showed fight but a blow from the butt of a Colt's revolver in the hands of one of the bandits quickly silenced him. His name is J. J. Enyish, and it is thought he is not seriously hurt.

The express car was next forced open and the messenger, at the point of a pistol, made to leave the train. This was as much of the train as the men seemed to want, and backing towards Hartwell, a mile and a half or two miles, they cut off the baggage car and left with it.

The express company's safe was blown and the thieves loaded themselves down with all the valuable packages it contained.

Near Fort Jefferson, almost at the river, they abandoned the engine and looted the car and crossed the river into Missouri.

The train was delayed three hours by the robbery. A rifle, four pistols, and a kit of tools were left by the men in their flight.

One package containing $750 was found on the Kentucky side of the river and another with a similar amount on the Missouri side, both having been lost in the haste and excitement of the robbers.

As near as can be learned at present, about $10,000 in money and doubtless some valuables, were secured as booty. The reason they did not get more was because the express companies seldom carry large amounts of money during the night.

Engineer Bob Tisdale, a Paducah boy, was in charge of the locomotive, but the odds were against him and he had to submit to the inevitable. As soon as the daring robbery became known, a special train with an armed posse and blood hounds left division headquarters at Jackson, Tenn., for the scene.

It is thought the robbery was committed by some of the old Missouri desperadoes, and were old hands in the business. It was reported at Illinois Central headquarters today that Missouri officers were hot on the men's trails and probably would apprehend them.

A similar robbery was committed near the same place three or four years ago, and the robbers were caught. The passengers on the train last night were badly frightened, but no effort was made to molest them. The train is one of the most important, and has one of the largest passenger lists of any on the system, but the robbers were evidently laying for bigger game.

A number of shots were fired by the robbers when they first took possession of the train, but no one was hurt, although a few windows were shot out. The hold-up was well planned and quickly and successfully executed, leading the railroad detectives to believe it was perpetrated by professionals.

One of the men was about 45 years old, tall, with a week's growth of beard. Another was a young man with a light moustache.

DARKER

Grows the Prospects of Saving the Foreigners in China's Capital, Peking.

OFFICIALS ARE "MUM"

Fighting Still Continues About Tien Tsin and the Allied Forces Are Faring Very Badly.

THE DETAILS PROMISE HORRORS

LONDON, July 11.—The feeling here relative to the safety of the foreigners in Peking is today decidedly less hopeful than for several days. The people don't like the fact that Chinese officials continue to say they have nothing from an official source to give out, though stating reports are of such and such effect. The officials are asked to declare the facts.

Fighting continues about Tien Tsin and it is of a savage character. The Chinese have been for some days bombarding the foreign concessions with damaging results and the efforts of the allied forces to give relief have been fruitless. The Russians are said to have lost 200 killed in an assault on the Chinese last Friday. Details of this fighting will no doubt prove horrifying.

STREET WORK.

THE CITY RECEIVES ANOTHER CARLOAD OF PIPE.

The Contract and Bond for the Street Paving Work Have Not Yet Been Ratified.

Work on lower Broadway is progressing rapidly, and the stormwater sewerage has been laid and the trenches filled to the street level for a block on the south side between First and Second.

Workman today began tearing up the street car tracks from First to Second. The city now has plenty of pipe, another car load of 24-inch having arrived today.

There is some interest in municipal circles over the contract and bond of Porteous & Patterson, the contractors. The understanding was that the contract had only been awarded to Porteous & Patterson, and had never been offered the council for ratification, with bond for acceptance. Mayor Lang claims, however, that this is unnecessary under the ordinance.

NEWS NOTES.

The inventory of the personal estate of the late vice president G. A. Hobart, filed with the surrogate at Paterson, N. J., appraises the late vice president's wealth at $2,628,441. Mr. Hobart held bonds in twenty-six corporations and stock in over one hundred.

American athletes, in the biggest athletic contest ever held in England, captured seven out of ten events from the champions of England, Australia, Ireland, Scotland and India. Deaths at St. Johns.

Mrs. Susan Moore, aged 89, died from old age at her home near St. John's last evening, leaving four daughters and a son. The remains were buried in the cemetery.

SNAKE BITTEN.

Mrs. Holbert Jett in a Precarious Condition From a Reptile's Sting.

Mrs. Holbert Jett, a well known young matron of the Lamont section of the county, was bitten by a snake while picking blackberries last evening, and at last reports is in a precarious condition. It is not known to what species the snake belonged, as it was not killed, but was a small dark looking reptile. Mrs. Jett was taken home and at times it required two people to hold her in bed.

FIRE PROTECTION.

The New Union Depot is Now Excellently Equipped.

The Illinois Central depot is now well equipped with fire fighting paraphernalia, 100 feet of good hose have been received, and two of the latest Babcock fire extinguishers. The water is from the city stand pipe.

IS A STORY PRINTED BY THE NEW YORK WORLD TODAY.

Plot of Spaniards to Assassinate President McKinley Was Discovered and Broken up.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The World prints a story to the effect that Spaniards in that city had plotted to assassinate President McKinley and that the plot has been discovered. Detectives are guarding Mr. McKinley's home at Canton, N. Y., as a precautionary measure. The World's story was created quite a sensation.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Colonel Dick denies the plot to assassinate McKinley was anything important. He says the work of some crank has been greatly exaggerated.

ANOTHER VICTIM.

Geo. Sneed, of the Peter Hontz, Dies at Cairo.

George Sneed, colored, one of the victims of the Peter Hontz' explosion on the Tennessee river last week, died yesterday in the marine hospital at Cairo.

He also said that a German firm in 1899 sold China 460,000 Mauser rifles.

BUSTED

Democracy in the Seventh District Goes to Pieces Over the Congressional Fight.

TWO NOMINEES ARE MADE

Regulars Copper the Bolters' Selection of Trimble With the Naming of Moody.

A CHANCE FOR THE REPUBLICANS

PARIS, Ky., July 11.—The Seventh district congressional convention which assembled here yesterday afternoon split, as told in the Sun, and named two candidates—Trimble and Moody.

The Trimble faction in its rump convention took possession of the hall, as soon as the regular body retired to reassemble in the evening and in haste and with recklessness named Trimble for congressman, declaring efforts had been made and were to be made to rob him of the place. The body after declaring itself adjourned.

The regulars reassembled last evening in accordance with adjournment and after 38 ballots chose Moody, of Owenton, as their standard bearer. Allen retired and the choice was subsequently made unanimous.

The Trimble faction are all gone, but many of the Moody-Allen delegations are still here.

Democracy in this district was never so badly split. There will be nothing but throat-cutting politics till November. Each faction claims full justification for its actions and each have a good following.

It is freely said the Republicans and anti-Goebelites will immediately decide upon a strong man for the place and will carry the district in November.

CONDUCTOR KILLED.

He Formerly Ran into Paducah—Was Well Known Here.

Conductor C. Riddell, well known in Paducah, having until a few months ago run out of Paducah on the St. Louis division of the Illinois Central, was killed yesterday in St. Louis.

A St. Louis paper says of the sad fate of this popular man: "C. Riddell, a freight conductor employed by the Illinois Central railroad company, was run over and instantly killed by a freight engine and four cars in the rear of Elliott's Frog and Switch company's plant at East St. Louis at 11:30 o'clock this morning."

"His body was cut in two, and part of the remains were rolled along the ground, under the locomotive and cars for some distance before the train was brought to a standstill."

"Riddell returned this morning from a ten days' vacation, which he had spent in the country with relatives."

"Where the accident happened is a watchman's house, and Riddell's view of the approaching train was obscured by this building. He stepped onto the track and the next instant he was knocked down and run over."

Thirst in Infants.

It is a mistake to suppose that because milk is a liquid food it is at the same time a drink which is capable of satisfying the thirst of infants. Although milk appeases hunger, it makes thirst more intense after it has remained some time in stomach and digestion of it has begun. It is thirst which causes healthy, breast-nourished infants to cry for long periods of time in many instances. There are many cases of indigestion due to weakness or insufficiency of the child's gastric juice, which would be greatly benefited or even cured if the child were allowed an occasional drink of water—Medical Classic.

China is said to have a population of 400,000,000 people.

REFUSED

A Continuance of the Powers Case. Although it Was Granted a Brief Postponement.

COMES UP NEXT TUESDAY

The Absence of a Great Many Witnesses the Grounds on Which a Continuance Was Asked.

RULE OF PRACTICE TURNED DOWN

GEORGETOWN, Ky., July 11.—Judge Cantrill overrules Powers' motion for a continuance of his case. He has given the defense until Tuesday next to secure the presence of his absent witnesses and said he would then grant more time if all were not subpoenaed.

Yesterday the defense filed a motion and grounds for a continuance. The motion is based on the absence of about ninety witnesses. The commonwealth objected to a continuance and the defense through ex-Governor Brown asked an adjournment of the morning session of the court in order to prepare affidavits in support of the motion. The affidavit was filed yesterday afternoon and purports to state the character of the testimony expected to be proved by the absent witnesses. Under the criminal code this is cause for a continuance unless the prosecution shall admit the affidavits as evidence. When the affidavit was filed the defense held a lengthy consultation at which it was decided to file objection to the affidavit on the ground of the alleged irrelevancy and incompetency of parts of the evidence offered in it. At 6 o'clock the court adjourned to give the attorneys for that side time to prepare the objections and the case was resumed at 9 o'clock this morning, with the result stated.

POLICE COURT.

Two Boys Have Been on Trial All During the Day.

The trial of Given Greer and Prather Witherspoon, colored, for detaining two colored girls, has been on trial all day before Judge Sanders and was unfinished at press time.

Robert Fields, colored, for abusing his wife, was recognized in the sum of $200 for his future good behavior.

John Lee, for being drunk and disorderly on a street car, was fined $5 and costs.

Rafe Vale and Sam Evetts were fined $5 and costs for a breach of the peace.

The fine against Evetts and Vale was assessed on motion of the prosecuting attorney, no evidence being heard.

New Style Toothache.
Mountain toothache is a new addition to our bodily ills. It has attacked engineers and laborers on the Jungfrau railroad at a height of 8,500 feet above sea level as a jumping toothache that attacks several teeth at a time, lasts seven or eight days, and leaves the patient with a swollen face, which it takes another week to reduce. After that the teeth are acclimated and give no further trouble.—New York Sun.

An Empress Fond of Caricatures.
The empress of Russia speaks five languages, and riding, painting, rowing, sketching, swimming and tennis are among her recreations. But one of her favorite amusements is in drawing caricatures. Freed from the fear of the censor, she indulges with her pen and pencil in a way which makes even Russian ministers tremble, draw, which it takes another week to reduce. After that the teeth are acclimated and give no further trouble.—New York Sun.

The Centenary of Heine.
The celebration of the centenary of Heine, which was announced as an imposing literary ceremony, was melancholy enough. A dozen or so of journalists, chiefly German and English, met in the Montmartre cemetery in bitterly cold weather. The poet's tomb was sparsely decorated with flowers. A few visiting cards were pinned to the wreath and after a little subdued conversation the company separated. —Chicago Record.

In The World
Of Literature
It does the hearts of us proud Kentuckians good to note the generous praise the reviewers and critics are bestowing on our fellow citizen, James Lane Allen, and there is not one of us whose hearts do not swell with pride for, and admiration of this talented gentleman when we run
across the many comments on Allen, and his earlier and latest work, that are filling all the journals and periodicals at the present time. Richard LaGallienne, the famous London poet and critic, in a recent review, of some of Allen's works, "The Blue Grass Region of Kentucky," "A Kentucky
Cardinal," "Aftermath," and "The Choir Invisible" was very enthusiastic and complimentary and classed him as undoubtedly one of the foremost writers of this or any other age. Who is it that can read his "A Kentucky Cardinal," "Aftermath," "Plate and the Violin" or any of his works without living set in motion a train of the noblest and purest of thoughts, and inspired in them a greater, a warmer feeling for all things of nature's, and a keener sight for her many beauties. All of Mr. Allen's works have been very popular—of the sort that is lasting too. The sale for his "Choir Invisible" has reached 250,000 copies.
Various reasons have been assigned for the great popularity of "The Choir Invisible," one reviewer alleging that it is due to the fact of its being the first of that series of American historical novels for which the public seems to have been hungering.
This is no doubt partially true, but the continuance of Mr. Allen's vogue is due to a better reason.
Despite the success of various inferior and ephemeral works, there is always a sufficiently large proportion of the reading public able to comprehend art, and the approval of those who know is sure to compel that of those who do not know, but think they do. So Mr. Allen's fame is laid upon a firm and enduring foundation.
He is a writer of English, pure and unadorned, who must be classed with the best names in our literature.
There has been quite a tendency to compare him with Hawthorne, perhaps because he takes us back to that fragrant day of American letters when books were written with the highest aims in view and were not boomed like new brands of soap or biscuits.
Mr. Allen has a delicate and sensitive mind capable of perceiving and delineating the most subtle refinements even of the feminine mind, but after all his keenest visions is for the beauties of nature. He is most responsive to the moods of nature, and it is in expression of these moods that words lend themselves best to his aid.
When Mr. Allen is dealing with nature his pages read as though they had been inspired by the ghost of Wordsworth. As one peruses many passages of Wordsworth continually rises and will not down. So far as Mr. Allen is great, it is with Wordsworth and not with Hawthorne that he should be compared.

Mr. Allen's latest story, "The Reign of Law," is laid in Kentucky, his beloved state and the scene of all his literary triumphs. The time is the reconstruction period, or those years following the civil war, in which the people of the south were endeavoring to adapt themselves to new conditions.
The title, "The Reign of Law," refers to mental and scientific conditions
rather than to any episode concerned with human law. Applied to a novel dealing with Kentucky it is somewhat misleading and not altogether satisfactory when one really understands it.
The story is an idyl of the hemp fields. The hero, David (the author's poetic sense prevents him from using a surname), is introduced as a lanky young giant cutting weeds in a woodland pasture. He is a big rawboned, demure boy of near 18. He is a picture by Millet.
Heavy shoes, the toes green with grass stains; the leather so seasoned by morning dews as to be like wood for hardness. These were to keep his feet protected from the briars or from the clover or from the terrible hidden thorns of the honey locusts. No socks.
A pair of scant homespun trousers,
long outgrown. A coarse clean shirt.
His big shock head thatched with yellow straw, a dilapidated sun and rain shield.
But this is no ordinary lad as we shall soon see.
Let it be remembered that he had an eye which was not merely an opening and closing, but a seeing eye—full of health and of the enjoyment of the pageantry of things and that behind this eye, looking through it as through its window, stood the dim soul of the lad, itself in a temple of perpetual worship. . . . When a of morning he stepped out of the plain farmhouse with its rotting doors and leaking roof and started off joyously to his day's work, at the sight of the great sun just rising above the low dew-wet hills, his soul would go soaring away to heaven's gate. Sometimes he would be abroad late at night. . . . In every farmhouse that he passed on the country road the people were asleep—
over all the shadowy land they were asleep. And everywhere, guard in the darkness, watched the moon pouring its very soft, ar-

kernel and forth-
light not enough to awaken enough to protect; how he worshipped toward that lamp tended by the sleepless!
David is greatly excited over the announcement that a great seat of learning is to be founded in Kentucky, and he determines to attend the Bible college. By hard labor in the hemp fields he accomplishes his purpose, but his first year of study so enlarges his vision that he sees both good and evil
in all the different orthodox creeds and even in some of the pagan religions. He is expelled from the college and the church and returns home to his disgraced parents. He resumes labor in the hemp fields, but continues his studies by lamplight.
In the meantime he has met Gabriella, one of those daintily trim and womanly women which Mr. Allen's chivalrous pencil knows so well how to portray. Her family has been ruined by the war and she has been left alone in the world, an aristocrat, to support herself as best she can. We leave each other to the attainment of their mutual happiness.
Mr. Allen comes from Virginia ancestry. His family settled early in Kentucky, and he was born on a farm in Fayette county, seven miles from Lexington, where he spent his early childhood. He was educated in Kentucky University, graduating in 1872.
For several years after graduation he taught in the district schools as private tutor, and finally as professor in Kentucky and afterward at Bethany college, West Virginia. In 1884 he gave up teaching and went to New York to take up literature as a profession. His published books are "Plate and Violin," a collection of short stories; "The Blue Grass Region of Kentucky," "A Kentucky Cardinal,"
"Aftermath," "A Summer in Ar-cady," and lastly "The Choir Invisible."

INSUFFICIENT LIGHT.

The Way to the New Depot is Still Too Dark.

The city's three new lights, placed on the route to the Illinois Central depot, are not giving satisfaction, as they are insufficient to give the desired light.

The distance from the old lights to the new depot is half a mile or more, and three lights are hardly a drop in a bucket, some of the kickers complain, although they are better than no light at all.

No light is hung in one of the worst places—the bend in the street, where a hold up is likely to occur any night.

WANTED ELSEWHERE.

Richards and Wilkerson May Be Desperate Characters.

Acting Marshal Harlan has received several letters from Rockport, Cloverport, Leitchfield and other places relative to the safe blowers, Richards and Wilkerson, in jail here for blowing Mr. Cal Waggoner's safe.

Several safes, most all of them in postoffice, have been blown with nitro glycerine, and it is thought these are the men. In nearly every instance the safes blown were near towns in which Sells & West's circus was showing.

BOLIN ACQUITTED.

He Bought the Whip and Gave Evidence Proving the Statement.

James Bolin, driver of one of Nelson's ice wagons, was acquitted on a charge of stealing a whip belonging to Mr. Henry Bogenia, in the police court this morning.

He proved that he bought the whip from another driver named Thompson, and the latter proved that the whip was thrown into his wagon by a colored boy.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

Many women suffer all sorts of so-called "female weaknesses" simply because their kidneys are out of order and they have a right to know FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE is just what is needed by most ailing women.

S. H. Winstead.

The new city charter of Havana will go into effect this week. It gives the municipality more power than was ever enjoyed before, and the officials are quite independent of the central or provincial government. Charters for other cities are to be granted as rapidly as they can be drawn.

If you are sick all over and don't know what ails you, it's ten to one your kidneys are out of order. FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE will bring health and energy.

S. H. Winstead.

It is reported at Chicago that the Chicago and Alton, the Kansas City Southern and the Union Pacific railroads are to be united in one system, and that Stuart R. Knott will be vice president of the consolidated system, to be elevated soon to the presidency, President Folger going to New York as chairman of the boards of the three companies.

The blood is strained and purified by the kidneys. No hope of health while the kidneys are wrong. FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE will make healthy kidneys and pure blood. Nothing else "just as good."

S. H. Winstead.

FOR CONVENTION

Of Republicans of McCracken County for Saturday, July 14th, at the City Hall.

By authority of the state central committee, the county committee of McCracken county met July 8th and ordered a county mass convention of the Republican party to be held at the city hall in Paducah, Ky., on Saturday, July 14th, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of sending delegates to the state convention to be held at Louisville, Ky., July 17th, 1900; said state convention is to be held for the purpose of nominating a candidate for governor of the state of Kentucky.

The Republican electors of this county, and all voters who are opposed to Goebelism, theft of office; those who believe in a rule by the majority; a free ballot and fair count; those who desire to redeem our state and perpetuate the fundamental principles of our government; those who value their civil liberty and political freedom, to these and to all good citizens we extend a cordial invitation to participate in this convention and urgently request their attendance.

FRANK M. FISHER, Chairman. C. W. MERRIWEATHER, Secretary. Paducah, Ky., July 7, 1900.

WE SERVE

Delicious soda. No question about that. Ask anybody who has drunk it and we'll go by what the majority of them say, we

MAKE IT RIGHT
KEEP IT RIGHT
SERVE IT RIGHT.

Not so cold that it's brittle, but just COLD ENOUGH to suit any palate, cold enough to give you a desire to come here again. If it's too cold to suit you, say so, and we'll put a little heat into it. We want to serve "Made to Order" soda—not "Hand-me-down."
